THE NATIONAL DEBATE TOURNAMENT

The National Debate Tournament began at the United States Military Academy in 1947. The NDT was organized and run by West Point for its first twenty years. In the early years of the tournament, the rules were determined by West Point administration in consultation with such debate coaches as A. Craig Baird of Iowa, G.M. Musgrave of Des Moines, Alan Nichols of Southern California, E.R. Nichols of Redlands, and Joseph O'Brien of Pennsylvania State. At the first tournament in 1947, twenty-nine colleges participated in five "seeding" rounds and four elimination rounds over a three day period. Some of the primary features of the tournament were that no school in the seeding rounds would meet a school within five hundred miles of it and no coach would judge a school from his own district. Many traditions were started at West Point that year, some of which still remain today: the "big board," announcement of round pairings, cadet escorts, the gathering of teams meeting each other under the school banner of the affirmative team, and team signs in the rooms, signs in the rooms.

In 1967, the National Debate Tournament entered a new era as the American Forensic Association assumed responsibility for the Tournament. With this new leadership, the NDT moved from West Point and has been hosted by a different school each year since. The director control of the tournament became the responsibility of a national committee elected by those schools supporting the tournament. Over the years, the tournament has expanded to sixty-two teams with various procedures used for their selection.

In the early days of the tournament, teams were selected by the district nominating committees. This later was replaced by some form of qualifying tournament in most districts. In recent years certain large tournaments were designated as national qualifiers but today we rely on a combination of district tournaments and at-large bids. As debate has developed in the last ten years, other refinements have been added to the tournament including the ten minute rule, elaborate striking procedures, judging qualifications, and critiques of the final round.

One key element of the success of the National Debate Tournament has been the support of past participants and community leaders. The early contributions of the United States Military Academy are exemplified by George Walker for whom the permanent second place Walker Memorial Trophy is named. Walker was an excellent debater for West Point who won the NDT in 1956 and placed second in 1957. The support of professional men is typified by Sigurd S. Larmon for whom the permanent first place trophy is named. Mr. Larmon's generous support of the National Debate Tournament has been one of the key reasons why the tournament has survived. In recent years financial grants from the Ford Motor Company have made it possible for the tournament to prosper. Their support is recognized in the Ford Fund watches for the first and second speakers in the tournament.

Perhaps the most important aspect of the National Debate Tournament through the years has been the people associated with it. Many key people in the speech discipline, legal profession and other fields have received communicative and argumentative training from debate and most have displayed these skills in the National Debate Tournament.

Cal Poly Campus — Center View

To all Coaches, Judges and Participants in the 1981 National Debate Tournament:

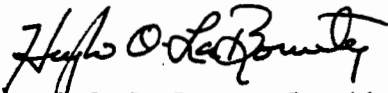

On behalf of the faculty, staff, and students of California State Polytechnic University, Pomona, I welcome you to our campus. We are pleased to host the 1981 National Debate Tournament.

As a former collegiate debater myself, I can assure you that Cal Poly maintains a firm commitment to the important benefits of intercollegiate forensics. The instruction and experience in decision making, reasoning and argument represent critical contributions to our students' development.

The 62 teams that have arrived here from all over the country represent the best of today's college debaters. We consider it an honor that you have selected our campus for the capstone experience in debate for 1981. I am certain that Robert Charles, David Cooley and his staff, and the Cal Poly Forensics Association will make your visit a memorable one.

Good luck to you all.

Sincerely,

Hugh O. La Bounty, President
California State Polytechnic
University, Pomona

To All Coaches, Judges, and Participants in the 35th Annual NDT:

Once again, it is my distinct privilege to welcome you to this tournament on behalf of the American Forensic Association.

The fact that you are here indicates that you have achieved a high degree of excellence in your debate competition this year. Therefore, there can be no losers at this tournament. When the best debaters in the country match their skills and abilities, the experience makes everyone a winner!

To our NDT Committee Chair Bill Balthrop, Chair Ron Matlon of the Board of Trustees, Tournament Director Mike Hazen, and our Host Bob Charles, we owe a tremendous debt of gratitude. We trust that all of you will have a highly educational experience.

Best wishes,

Gerald H. Sanders
President

TO ALL PARTICIPANTS IN THE 1981 NATIONAL DEBATE TOURNAMENT:

It is with great pleasure that I welcome you all to Cal Poly. The School of Arts, as part of its continued dedication to the liberal education of our students, is pleased to be host to the 35th National Debate Tournament. It has been my pleasure over the last several years to see our involvement with the American Forensics Association, the National Debate Tournament, and other intercollegiate organizations increase, in every case, to the benefit of our students.

A series of well-planned rounds of debate and social events has been prepared for the contestants, judges, and coaches. I hope that you will take advantage of the facilities on the campus and that you will have an opportunity to sample the Cal Poly experience.

My personal congratulations to each of you as members of the nation's top 62 teams.

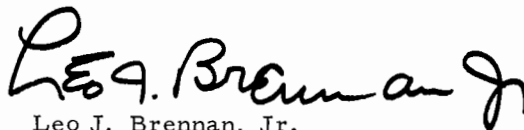

Cordially,

Ernest D. Rose, Dean
School of Arts
California State Polytechnic

RESOLVED: THAT THE UNITED STATES SHOULD SIGNIFICANTLY INCREASE ITS FOREIGN MILITARY COMMITMENTS.

The Thirty-fifth National Debate Tournament is sponsored by the American Forensic Association and the Ford Motor Company fund. District and national committees have expended much time and effort to insure that the tournament reflects the highest quality debating throughout the nation.

Sixteen teams were selected at-large by the National Debate Tournament Committee on the basis of outstanding records prior to the District tournaments. Thirty-six teams representing the nine Districts were invited on the basis of their superior debating in District tournaments. Nine additional teams were selected by the National Committee on an at-large basis after the District tournaments.

Guest judges, recommended by their District committees and selected by the tournament director, join coach-judges accompanying the debate teams to staff three-man judging panels. In the preliminary rounds, judges are assigned according to the discretion of the director with the following constraints (in descending order of importance): 1) the judge cannot judge a team from his or her school, 2) the judge shall not judge a team she/he has previously judged on the side, 3) the judge shall not judge a team on his/her conflict of interest list, 4) the judge shall not judge a team she/he has heard on the opposite side, 5) a judge shall not judge a team on whose strike list she/he appears, 6) a judge shall not judge a team from his/her own district, 7) a judge shall not be assigned to a panel which has a previously assigned judge from his/her district, 8) a judge shall not be assigned in excess of the number of rounds for which she/he is obligated to the tournament. Beyond these considerations judges are assigned to a round on the basis of random selection. In the elimination rounds, judge panels are constituted on the basis of the mutual preferences of the teams involved in the round. These standards are designed to provide the best balance and highest quality criticism and evaluation of debate rounds.

The first round is matched on a pre-set schedule based upon the order in which teams qualified for the tournament with schools from the same district not meeting. All other odd numbered rounds are paired on the basis of direct power (high records meeting high records). All even numbered rounds are paired on the basis of high-low records within brackets. Any team could be paired against any other of records in the eight preliminary rounds, the top sixteen teams are selected by win-loss records, total ballots, and total adjusted speaker points for elimination round competition. Four rounds of elimination round competition culminates in the selection of one team as the national champion of collegiate debate. Awards are given to individual speakers after eight rounds of preliminary competition. Ten speakers are recognized on the basis of adjusted speaker points with high-lows being dropped up to four times.

Officials of the National Debate Tournament and the members of the American Forensic Association are grateful to the Ford Motor Company Fund for the generous grant which helped make this tournament possible. This support is recognized in the Ford Motor Fund Awards for the First and Second Speakers of the Tournament. We are also grateful to Mr. Sigurd S. Larmon for donating the rotating Larmon trophy, emblematic of the national debate championship, and to Mr. and Mrs. George Walker for donating the rotating second-place Walker Memorial Trophy.

We are most grateful to Robert Charles, David Cooley, The Cal Poly debaters, and District I for their cooperation and assistance in making tournament arrangements. We are also indebted to Hugh O. La Bounty, President of California State Polytechnic University, Pomona, Ernest Rose, Dean of the School of Arts; and Gary Keele, Head of the Department of Communication Arts for their support and cooperation. We are particularly indebted to Neil Gerard, Larry Zuleba and the Student Union Staff for outstanding service rendered to the National Debate Tournament.
